ANNUAL REUNION AND PICNIC

UNDER AUSPICES OF THE

County Board and Ladies' Auxiliary, A. O. H.

Phoenix Hill Park, Tuesday, Aug. 26, 1913

REFRESHMENTS

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

The attendance at the meeting of Division 1 greatly pleased the officers.

There are nine divisions in the Minneapolis Ladies' Auxiliary County Board.

St. Paul Hibernians will revive Irish athletic games at their field day August 17.

The time is approaching when every local division should hold an initiation.

The organization of juvenile divisions has met with gratifying success wherever undertaken.

Everybody was pleased to see ex-President Martin Cusick and Edward Clancy on Tuesday night.

Division 10 of Cumberland, R. I., is arranging for a reunion of its members and their families August 31.

Two companies of the First regiment of Hibernian Rifles participated in the Perry centennial parade at Toledo.

Milwaukee Hibernians hope to have Hon. Bourk Cochran for their guest and orator today at their annual celebration in Pabst Park.

Miss Mary Boylan, County President, reports that 174 new members were initiated for the half year by the Minneapolis auxiliaries.

Much elation is felt over the success of a number of Hibernians in the recent primary. They are all good men and will be elected.

There is a growing sentiment favoring consolidation of small and weak divisions, which would improve the local standard and influence of the order.

There should be an earnest contest between the local divisions to see which will benefit most from the reunion at Phoenix Hill on August 26.

Better than all else is the presence of members at meetings. This was manifest at those held this week, which were pleasant and enthusiastic.

Division 4 meets Monday night at Bertrand Hall. The business will be of interest to all the members, therefore a large attendance is looked for.

James Barry, of Division 1, has been to New York and Massachusetts, where he gathered some interesting news regarding the workings of the order.

Though not much has been said about the Ladies' Auxiliary, the members are doing earnest work, the results of which will be an agreeable surprise when reported.

Division 4 has gone to work to make the pace and record for the coming reunion and picnic. Though the men from Limerick are hustlers, they will not win without a struggle.

Under the plan arranged by County President Connelly and the Reunion Committee there should be an attendance of at least 10,000 when the annual reunion is held at Phoenix Hill.

Division 3 is making steady progress with its plans for a Hibernian home. It is expected that the building fund will be largely increased during the approaching fall and winter season.

Throughout the country there is now agitated a movement for a consolidation of the smaller divisions. The result in Milwaukee, it is argued, would follow almost everywhere and make the order much stronger.

Treasurer James Welsh and Secretary Daniel O'Keefe are doing excellent work for Division 2, which they hope to place in the front rank. They have an excellent field for work, and their example should be followed by every member of the division. With united effort they would soon be over 200 strong.

PROF. JAMES MANGAN DEAD.

The death of Prof. James Mangan, aged eighty-two years, occurred at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Raymond Stanton, Chestnut street, Jeffersonville, on July 31. His funeral took place from St. Augustine's church in that city on Saturday morning, August 2, when a solemn requiem mass was sung for the repose of his soul, the Rev. John O'Donnell being the celebrant. A large number of old friends of deceased attended the obsequies. The interment was in St. Augustine's cemetery by the side of his wife, who had preceded him by four years. Prof. Mangan taught the boys' parochial school at St. Augustine in Jeffersonville for many years, and also the boys' parochial school at Holy Trinity, New Albany, thirty years ago. He was a man of unblemished character, patient, charitable and kind. His life was an inspiration to all who knew him. May he rest in peace. He is survived by two daughters, Miss Mollie Mangan and Mrs. Elizabeth Stanton.

CATHOLIC WOMAN'S CLUB.

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Catholic Woman's Club will be held at the home next Monday morning and it is hoped that a number will have applied for membership by that time. The club should have a large representation in every parish of the city. As Father Schumann has said, "Could the public, and particularly our Catholic people, have an insight into the good which the club is doing, as is given to the ladies in charge to have, the interest and generosity in behalf of this admirable work would be doubled or trebled in the next decade of its existence."

TWIN CITY LEAGUE.

Only six more weeks remain of the Catholic Baseball League, including tomorrow's games, and first division places are still being hotly contested for. Judging from the present outlook the Champions are a likely bet for pennant honors, although they were given a harder race than last season, when under the name of the St. Charles they romped off with the flag easily and later defeated some of the best semi-professional teams about town. The schedule for tomorrow is as follows: Bruins vs. Spring Banks, Champions vs. Hepburns, Kentucky Oaks vs. Athletics, all at Shawnee Park, and Shamrocks vs. Cadets at Fairmont Park, New Albany. The standing to date:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Champions.....	11	4	.733
Spring Banks.....	9	5	.643
Kentucky Oaks.....	9	6	.600
Bruins.....	7	8	.467
Shamrocks.....	6	8	.429
Hepburns.....	5	8	.385
Cadets.....	5	8	.385
Athletics.....	4	9	.308

BASEBALL EPOCH.

With the beginning of the Minneapolis-Louisville series this afternoon a record for attendance will surely be established, this being especially the case in the double-header booked for tomorrow afternoon, reserved seats and additional seats will be built on the playing field. With fair weather tomorrow the largest attendance in the history of baseball in Louisville is looked for, and this includes the old days of the National League when Fred Clarke, Honus Wagner, Jimmy Collins and other world-wide stars performed at Twenty-eighth and Broadway. The four games with Minneapolis and the immediate three following with Milwaukee will probably settle the respective chances of each, all being evenly matched, and any ground lost in these series will hardly be recovered later on. From a pitching standpoint the Colonels look the best, and if they regain their batting eye should be returned winner in both series, as Minneapolis and Milwaukee are both shy on pitching material at present and have been depending on slugging to win games, although Cantillon has the weakest hitting aggregation in the past four years.

ST. WILLIAM'S FESTIVAL.

The festival for which St. William's people have been preparing for the past seven weeks will take place next Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, the afternoon being for the children. It will be given at the parish grounds and hall at Thirtieth and Oak streets. There will be no charge for admission, no meals, no eucure, no lotto, except in the afternoon. The hall is large, has a fine floor, will be clear of all obstructions, and there will be excellent music. There will be all kinds of refreshments and many means of pleasure and diversion. The buildings have all been freshly and beautifully painted, while the grounds are large and will be brilliantly illuminated, and assurance is given that there will be an excellent array of prizes and premiums. The festive contest, which has aroused widespread interest, calling for a second edition of books, will be decided at this festival, twelve awards to be drawn the first night and the remainder the second. Father Conner and his people are grateful to those who have been generous and generous, and they hope to be able to welcome and greet large numbers of friends each evening.

BETTING ON JAMES.

The last issue of the Petoskey News contains a thrilling story of how James McGrath, son of Frank McGrath, the local Democratic Chairman, captured a monster fish bare-handed while swimming in Lake Michigan, and after a desperate struggle towed his specimen of the finny tribe into shore. Some of "Jim's" friends here are debating on whether he found a gullible reporter to relate his experience to, some even betting such was the case, but to do the writer of the article justice he qualifies by stating that the Friday edition might have had "tummy-ache," hence his capture.

FORESTERS' CONVENTION.

The twenty-first annual international convention of the Catholic Order of Foresters was held in this city this week, and the programme heretofore published was carried out in every detail. All the States in which the order is established were fully represented, and officers, delegates and visitors are loud in praise of the treatment received here. The religious services were held at the Cathedral and the business sessions, which were executive, in the Seelbach Hotel. From what has been given out the proceedings were harmonious and will prove gratifying to the membership at large. Officers were elected late Thursday, those who have been directing the order being given another term.

The demand for chafonise dresses seems to be increasing.

DANCING

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The Very Rev. Andrew Canon Murphy, of St. Munchin's, Limerick, has been appointed Vicar General of Limerick diocese.

The Galway Harbor Commissioners at a special meeting have decided to petition the Board of Works for the sum of $200,000 for deepening and improving the harbor.

James Nicholson, who was found guilty of the manslaughter of Bernard Scanlan at the Sligo Assizes, was sentenced by Justice Gibson to three years' penal servitude.

Justice Molony, at the opening of the Queen's County Assizes in Maryborough, and Justice Kenny, at the opening of the assizes in Donegal, were presented with white gloves, there being no criminal business.

Deep regret is felt at the death, which occurred recently, of Mother de Sales, Miss Eleanor O'Beirne, Superioress of the Convent of Mercy, Sligo. She was seventy-four years of age and had passed sixty years in religious orders.

During the past few weeks twenty-two children have died from measles in Carrick-on-Suir. The epidemic started in the town and district about two months ago with some mild cases, but most of those attacked lately have died.

Two centenarians, John Stanton and John McLoughlin, live within a mile of each other in the parish of Ahascragh, near Ballinasloe. Stanton is 103 years and McLoughlin is 107. The old gentlemen are enjoying good health, and are strangers to the infirmities of old age.

Four men—Maurice and John Landers, Thomas O'Donnell and Michael Lee—were seriously injured by a blasting accident near Lismore. John Landers' thumb was blown off, and all the men received facial and bodily injuries, for which they are under treatment in Lismore Infirmary.

Widespread regret is manifested throughout the diocese at the death of Rev. Patrick Mulken, of Ballinasloe. Father Mulken was one of the most promising and popular young priests in the diocese, and the news of his death under such painful and distressing circumstances has cast a gloom over the entire district.

The Most Rev. Dr. McKenna, Bishop of Clonfert, has appointed the Rev. James E. McKenna to be parish priest of Dromore, County Tyrone, in succession to the late Right Rev. Monsignor McKenna. Father James McKenna is one of the ablest and most popular priests in the diocese. Prior to his appointment as administrator of Dromore he was for many years a curate in Enniskillen, and his name is a household word in every part of the parish.

Mrs. Hanlon, wife of Thomas Hanlon, a laborer, Shanagolden, County Limerick, received a fearful shock when, on returning from performing some kind of office for an aunt, friend, she found her three children, two boys and a girl, dead in their beds, having been smothered by dense smoke caused by smouldering fagots which ignited the kitchen furniture. On leaving the house half an hour before she saved the children their breakfast and closed the doors.

The death of James Moynagh at Corravacken has caused deep and widespread regret. Deceased was an extensive farmer and dealer and was well known in business circles all over the counties of Monaghan and Cavan, where his upright and charitable disposition earned for him many friends. He was a sterling Nationalist, who took an active part in the Land League and other national organizations, and was ever ready to support every movement for the benefit of the country.

JUBILEE MISSION.

The Rev. Father Charles Curran, of Holy Trinity church in New Albany, announced at the service in that church Sunday morning a jubilee mission, to be held at the church, beginning the last Sunday in October and continuing two weeks. It will be in observance of the jubilee year of 1913, which commemorates the fifteen hundredth anniversary of the edict of peace granted by Emperor Constantine to the Christian church. A letter written by Pope Pius X., proclaiming the jubilee to the Catholic churches of the world, was read.

The observance is world-wide. Bishop Joseph Chartrand, of the diocese of Indianapolis, to which the churches in New Albany belong, has decided that the faithful shall go to confession and communion and that they make six visits to the parish church, give alms to the poor or for some other charitable purpose. During this jubilee mission the Catholics of Holy Trinity parish are expected to gain the jubilee indulgence. During the mission there will be addresses to Catholics and special addresses to persons who are not Catholics. There also will be a question box for persons outside the church who desire to ask questions concerning the Catholic faith.

PAPAL COLORS.

The Papal colors were originally yellow and red, but Napoleon having adopted these colors for his troops in Italy, Pope Pius VII., in 1807, changed them to white and yellow, as they now continue to be.
